Creativity

As a part time teacher, I come across many parents - complaining about their kids that they are not studying well. They are spending most of the time at TV, computer or playing games. They ask me how to make them read?

This is very tough to address. I saw most of the kids achieving A+ in their studies even though they are spending time watching TV, browsing websites or playing games. Some of them are good Tennis players, Chess players, Singers. We should encourage other skills along with studies. So I tell them "As long as they are achieving A+ in studies and progressing in the art form they chose, let them continue and encourage them. That really helps them in presenting their creativity."
