Brakes!

A person bought a car and invited his friend for a ride. The friend was thrilled to go for a ride in a brand new vehicle. Vehicle was going smoothly and noise free.

Person : You know what? This vehicle is having so many features like Stability Controll, ABS...

Friend : That is great! How much did you pay for it?

Person : I got it for roughly $19K on the road and got a 0% finance for 5 years.

Friend : It is a good deal. Who is the dealer? BTW, you are driving very well without applying brakes.

Person : That is what I am searching for! (said while approaching a red light)

Friend : ??? ☹

Workout!

Two friends met and started chatting about their daily routine.

Sekhar : You have been going for horse riding almost for a month. Did you get any benefit of losing your weight?

Tushar: No! I didn't lose even a gram. But the horse did lose 20 Kilograms.

Sekhar : ?!@# $

Counting numbers!

Somu : Ramu, My dad knows numbers upto three only! He says "One ... Two ... Three" and then says "Start". I do not know how he is managing accounts in his studio!

Ramu: You know what? My dad is even worst. He always counts backwards. He says "Three ... Two ... One ... Zero". He teaches in an elementary school.

Somu's dad : ☹ ?

Why are you yelling?

"Help! Help! I do not know swimming" shouted a person while drowning.

"I do not know English, still did I scream like this during exams!" shouted a stranger passing by.

☹☹☹☹☹

Visibility!

Father took his son to a eye specialist for a check up.

Doctor : Can you read those alphabets?

Son : Z, E, H ...

Doctor : Good! That is perfect.

Son : Thank you, doctor.

Doctor : Are you having difficulty in reading letters on black board?

Son : Yes. Sometimes I can't read even a single line.

Doctor : Why? You are able to read the letters here.

Son : There is a tall guy sitting in front of me all the time.

Doctor : ☹ ☹ ☹ ☹
