Many of the readers expressed happiness on hearing that we are resuming Mathematrix again. We are thrilled to hear that. I remember the words of the scholar & Avadhani Sri Garikapati Narasimharao, “the claps an artist receives is a great honour”. An artist gets inspiration by listening the claps, which shows the audience are paying attention. Even in the case of Hanuman, rest of the Vanaras praised the greatness of Hanuman, he gained the energy and found Sita by crossing the ocean. Let us now get into Mathematrix (We changed the name from Mathematrix to Mathematrix).

January 21st, Wednesday. It is cloudy outside. It was too hot for the last two days. Again it turned like winter weather. The news I heard from India made me dull like the weather. Moreover suddenly there is no much work pressure after a two week intense pressure.

For gaining energy I started searching in internet for melodious music, Telugu literature; but could not get the happiness. While searching google I found Sanghamitra link. I felt like as if my old friend is wishing. I started reading the Sankranti (January) issue. First I read cover story. Later I read about the camp at Chicago in presence of Sri Chinna Jeeyar Swamiji. As I know that context, I read it with enthusiasm and thoroughly enjoyed. Thank you very much. My day started fresh again.
